Everybody's Talking

Walking backwards Medi Bastoni, an Indonesian man from Dono, a small village in East Java, was so passionate about a cause that he walked backwards for over 700 kilometres (430 mi.). Bastoni was raising awareness about rainforest preservation. His backwards walk took him to his country's capital of Jakarta, where he planned to meet with President Joko Widodo. What he wanted from the President was simple: a symbolic seed for a tree, which he would then plant near his village. Bastoni outfitted himself with a backpack full of supplies and a frame that held a rear-view mirror so he could see where he was going.

Petal power A building in Venezuela can open and close like a flower. The Flor de Venezuela is also known as the Flor de Hanover because it was built for Expo 2000 in Hanover, Germany. The architect, Fruto Vivas, wanted the building to reflect flowers, so he designed a building that has 16 enormous petals attached to a central stem. Using a hydraulic system, the petals can open and close, which is not only visually appealing, but also convenient if it rains. Once the Expo was over, the building was moved, piece-by-piece, to Barquisimeto in the western part of the country.

Quiet park Vancouver, British Columbia, on Canada's west coast, is home to Stanley Park, which covers an area of about 400 hectares (1,000 acres). Cyclists and walkers love pedalling on 27 kilometres (16.7 mi.) of trails that wind through and around the park. Stanley Park includes a variety of vegetation, including centuries-old red cedars, towering Douglas firs, and Pacific dogwoods, making it a quiet forest retreat in the middle of a big city. Walkers and cyclists who stick to the peripheral trail can watch float planes come and go on Vancouver Harbour and enjoy views of the surrounding mountains.

Iconic sculpture The red phone booth is an iconic sight in London, England, and there is a sculpture to recognize this symbol of English heritage. Called "Out of Order," it was made by Scottish sculptor David Mach and installed in 1989 on Old London Road. "Out of Order" consists of 12 red phone booths that look like they have fallen into each other. Some viewers think that it symbolizes the death of the phone booth in this age of mobile phones, but the sculpture was installed before the use of those devices were as common as they are today. The sculpture is a great backdrop for tourists snapping selfies!

Recipe of the month

Easy Cheesy Potato Fans

4 large Yukon gold potatoes (2 lb./900 g)
1/4 cup creamy caesar dressing
1 cup shredded mozza-cheddar cheese
1 green onion, sliced

Level: Easy Total Time: 25 mins Yield: 4 servings, 1 potato each

❶ Heat oven to 400°F.
❷ Place potatoes on microwaveable plate; prick each in several places. Microwave on HIGH 10 to 12 min. or until tender, turning and rearranging every 3 min. Cool 10 min.
❸ Make 7 to 9 diagonal cuts in top of each potato, cutting about 3/4 of the way into potato. Place on baking sheet sprayed with cooking spray. Gently spread slices of each potato slightly apart; brush with 1 Tbsp. dressing.
❹ Bake 15 to 18 min. or until potatoes are lightly browned. Top with cheese; bake 1 to 2 min. or until melted. Sprinkle with onions.

How to easily cut potatoes into fans: Place potato on wood spoon; cut crosswise into thin slices. The spoon will keep your knife from slicing all the way through. Don't cut more than 3/4 of the way down – the slices should still hold together at the potato's base.
