Vol. 19 No. 26 June 27, 2022

Everybody's Talking

Muddy lady: An octogenarian from Sikeston, Missouri (U.S.), doesn't mind getting a bit muddy. In fact, Mildred Wilson has no problem getting really muddy, and she proved it by participating in the Tough Mudder race, not once, but twice. Encouraged by her son, Wilson first checked with her doctor to make sure she was healthy enough to get through the race, which includes wading through muddy pits and crawling under and over obstacles. Then she trained at her local gym to be sure she was fit enough to compete. Wilson completed her first Tough Mudder in 2019, then did it again in 2021, to the admiration of her family and the other competitors.

Passion for running: Wang Lang of Liaoning, China, didn't realize how much she would love running when she took it up at age 50. Twenty years later, the sport clearly is a passion for the now 70-something-year-old grandmother. She has run over 100 marathons during that time. She started running simply to keep fit, but soon found herself preparing for these long races. To stay in shape, she trains by running 20 kilometres (12 miles), six days per week. She has run even longer races, including the 168-kilometre (104 mile) Liaoning marathon. Wang Lang has become known as "Super Grannie."

Crop land: A large amount of land in India is considered desert and therefore not available for cultivation. One man, however, found a way to change that. Anand Dhawaj Negi, an ex-government worker and son of a farmer, was able to convert a few acres of desert land in Himachal Pradesh by working patiently to test farming practices and types of crops. Over a 20-year period, Negi (who passed away in early 2021) figured out how to best work the land so it would grow kidney beans, potatoes, green peas, and more. Part of his reason for taking on this project was to inspire others to successfully cultivate their own crops using his scientific practices.

Underground space: A few years ago, when Andres Canto was a young teen, he had a fight with his parents. The youngster from Alicante, Spain, was mad that his mom wouldn't let him go into town wearing a sweatsuit. So, he let his anger out in what turned out to be a productive way: he started digging a hole in his backyard with a pickaxe. Canto enjoyed digging, and a few years later, with the help of a friend he brought to the project, he ended up with a cave. Careful builders, he and his friend figured out how to support the roof. The cave now has many features, including several rooms, stairs, an oven, and a stereo. While Canto doesn't live there full time, he does like to hang out in his cave, and has found a way to bring in electricity and heating.

Did You Know...

Hurricane names: In North America, tropical storms and hurricanes have only been given names since 1953. The U.S. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration chose short, familiar female names to identify the storms. By the late 1970s, male names were added.

Smallest country: A country that draws the rich and famous, Monaco is also known for another reason: at just 0.77 square miles (2 sq. km), it's the second smallest country in the world. Vatican City in Rome is the smallest country, at 0.27 square miles (0.7 sq. km).

Happy purr: While pet felines often purr, their cat family relative the tiger can't do the same. Instead, tigers blow air through their nostrils and produce a hearty snort sound called a chuff.

Light sleeper: A dolphin is a light sleeper; only half of its brain is asleep at a time. This is called unihemispheric sleep and is believed to be necessary to remind the dolphin to come to the surface to breathe. It also serves as protection against predators.

Strange name: The food called Bombay Duck is not actually duck—it's fish that is often dried and salted. It may have gotten its name from the mail train, called the Bombay Daak (or Dak), that transported the odiferous fish from the ocean to India's interior cities.

On the Lighter Side

Knock! Knock! Who's there? Alma. Alma who? Alma cookies are gone, bring me some more!

Did you hear about the two boa constrictors who got married? They had a crush on each other.

What do you call a Roman emperor when he catches a cold? Julius Sneezer.

I was going to buy some thin sandals when I went on my trip. But then I flip-flopped.

Matt: "Why are you bringing a ruler to bed?"
Pat: "I want to see how long I sleep."
