Vol. 19 No. 31 August 1, 2022

Everybody's Talking

Lightweight warmth: The eider polar duck, which lives in the far north, is the source of eiderdown. This down is very expensive because it is extremely light but has amazing insulation qualities. Therefore, it is no surprise that people "farm" for eiderdown in Iceland. The ducks congregate in sanctuaries built by the farmers, who work hard to keep natural predators away. In return, the farmers collect the eiderdown from the birds' nests, once they have been abandoned. Iceland produces a large percentage of the world's eiderdown, which is used to line quilts and coats that go for high prices. These birds are a protected species in Iceland.

Desert plant: The Namib Desert, located in Namibia and Angola on the southwestern coast of Africa, is home to a very durable plant called the Welwitschia, or in Afrikaans, the tweekblaarkanniedood. Named after Friedrich Welwitschia, a 19th-century botanist who studied it, its Afrikaans name means "two leaves that cannot die." This plant can live for hundreds of years in a seemingly barren environment with little moisture. It looks like it has many leaves, but there are only two, which become ragged and split over the plant's life. Many consider the Welwitschia to be a living fossil.

Gigantic tree: A Montezuma cypress tree on the grounds of a church in the town of Santa Maria del Tule, Mexico, is said to have the thickest trunk in the world. Called the Tule Tree, or Árbol del Tule, this specimen is likely at least 1,400 years old, possibly much older. Its trunk has a circumference of 42 meters (138 ft.). That would take about 30 people holding hands with their arms outstretched to encircle the tree. The tree is located not far from the tourist town of Oaxaca, so lots of visitors come to see it. However, a tree of this stature has to be protected: it has a fence around it so no one can climb it or take pieces of bark as souvenirs.

Steep cliff: While not the tallest mountain in the world, one mountain's claim to fame is that it has the tallest vertical cliff. The north face of Mount Thor, located in Auyuittuq National Park on Baffin Island, in Canada's far north, has the longest vertical drop in the world at 1,250 meters (4,101 ft.). Not only that, but the cliff is a 105-degree overhang, making it steeper than steep! Many climbers have tried and failed to scale this massive rock wall. In 1985, a team of four Americans finally made it to the top. They had to carry a lot of equipment and food because the climb took them 33 days! The mountain is named after Thor, the Nordic God of Thunder.

Did You Know...

Wigged out: If King Louis XIV of France hadn't begun to lose his hair at age 17, the wig-making business might have been slow. But the king popularized the custom of wearing a wig, and almost 50 wigmakers created a wide array of hairpieces for him.

Love letters: In the Louvre Museum in Paris, Leonardo Da Vinci's famous painting, "Mona Lisa," has her own mailbox for all the love letters she receives. Millions of people go see her every year, though not everyone leaves behind a declaration of affection.

Going bananas: Bananas are curved because of a plant hormone called auxin, which triggers how they respond to sunlight. Initially, the fruit grows down in response to gravity, but then the hormone kicks in and the weighty clusters turn and curve toward the sun.

Goldfish group: Fish traveling in a group are often called a "school" of fish, but a school of goldfish alternatively might be called a "glint" or a "troubling" of goldfish.

Good for your health: People who own pets can derive health benefits from their non-human friends. Dogs and cats can reduce stress, anxiety, and depression, ease loneliness, encourage exercise, and even improve cardiovascular health in their human companions.
