Everybody's Talking

Adopted piglet: Last fall, a German farmer was tickled pink to discover that a baby wild boar had found a new family in his herd of cattle. Friedrich Stapel, of Brevoerde in the central part of the country, thinks the piglet got separated from her own family after crossing a river. Nicknamed "Frida," the wee adopted animal likes to follow the cows around the field, and the whole herd seems to have accepted her presence. She even munches on grass next to her new family members. Not wanting to leave her alone, Stapel planned to keep Frida over the winter, placing her in a barn with some of the mother cows.

Dating method: Ed Chapman was looking for love, but couldn't find it through traditional methods, such as dating apps or trying to meet someone through his friendship circles. So the young man from Leeds, England, tried a more eye-catching approach: he rented a billboard on a major highway for a week. The billboard featured a photo of Chapman, the words "Date Me," and an email where interested parties could reach him. On the first day the billboard went up, Chapman received a request for a date, and received numerous others in the weeks following. The next step was to go on a few dates and see if a like-minded person clicked with this enterprising young fellow!

Lost boys: The ending was the happiest one that any family could have imagined. Two young brothers, ages 6 and 8, were found alive in the Amazon jungle after being lost for almost a month. Glauco and Gleison Ferreira had been out bird catching near Manicoré in Brazil's Amazonas state. When they didn't come home, hundreds of area people joined emergency service workers to search for the pair. The boys' parents did not give up hope, and even after authorities called off the search due to rainy conditions, locals continued to look. Finally, a log cutter found them. While malnourished, both were fine, to the joy and relief of their parents.

Not too smart: If someone is on a police "wanted" list, it may be best to stay away from police stations. However, a criminal in South Africa's Mpumalanga province didn't consider this advice. For over seven years, Thomas Ngcobo, a delivery driver, was a wanted man because he had stolen computer products by taking packages to different addresses than what were indicated on the delivery slips. No one noticed until his manager did an invoice check on a missing item. Somehow Ngcobo managed to stay hidden from authorities, at least until he applied for a job as a police officer. When he entered a station to check on his resume, he was detained.
